Agreement Believed Near On Armistice In Korea

Auto Hits Train Out Of Chicago; Seven Are Killed

CHICAGO (AP)—A mother, her three daughters and three granddaughters were killed Wednesday night when their crowded automobile was struck by a Michigan Central Railroad passenger train. Another grandchild and a neighbor girl, also passengers in the car, were injured. All were residents of the South Chicago district. The accident occurred in suburban Burnham at the Chicago city limits on the Illinois-Indiana border.

No passengers in the 13-car train were injured but the train, the Canadian Niagara enroute to Detroit, was delayed one hour. Engineer Claire Phillips of Niles, Mich., told police the train was traveling about 40 miles an hour and the auto at about 60 miles an hour when the crash occurred. The automobile was hurled about 150 feet from the crossing, which has no gates but is protected by flasher lights.

Debris from the wrecked car damaged the railroad signal system on the track's westbound lane and delayed the Twilight Limited streamliner for 90 minutes. It was Chicago bound from Detroit.

The dead were identified at the Cook County morgue by relatives several hours after the accident. They were Mrs. Catherine Zawacki, 60, of 8813 Houston Ave., her daughter, Mrs. Irene Skala, 22, Mrs. Genevieve Kovack, 26 and Patricia Zowacki, 18 and her granddaughters, Barbara Davis, 11, Arlene Zawacki, 7, and Jacqueline Kovack, 5.

Mrs. Skala's son, David, 4, and Miss Virginia Warren, 17, the two survivors, were taken to St. Margaret's Hospital in Hammond, Ind.

Lansing Legislators Return To Work On Appropriations

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's Legislature returns to the capitol today to adopt a budget for next year—a budget now $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 in the black thanks to its new business receipts tax.

Both chambers assemble at 2 p.m. but members of the House and Senate conference committees were to get working this morning on appropriation bills which have passed the one chamber and been revised in the other.

This afternoon, the House must tackle the remaining appropriation measures, some of which then may go to later conferences.

May Finish Today
Lawmakers expected to complete the job Friday.

As it stands, the budget approaches $338,000,000 in general fund appropriations. It is not expected to deviate much from that figure after House-Senate differences are ended.

The budget bills were left hanging by the House until it learned what Gov. Williams would do with the business receipts tax.

Williams announced last week he would let it become law without his signature. He criticized the tax but said a veto of it would put the state in a worse financial mess than it is now.

Counting all tax measures now enacted, state fiscal officials figure the treasury will have $50,000,000 to $58,000,000 available next year.

Wrangle Over Hospital
This would leave $12,000,000 to $20,000,000 to apply on the state's general fund deficit, now in the neighborhood of $75,000,000.

The principal points of difference expected between the House and Senate in today's session are over the location of a new $2,000,000 children's psychiatric hospital and a $400,000 automotive laboratory at the University of Michigan.

The House wants the hospital at Northville State Hospital and the Senate wants it at the University of Michigan. The Senate has approved the automotive laboratory while the House is balking on it.

Reds Reported Ready To Accept UN Truce Terms

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communist and United Nations commands were reported today to be very close to agreement on a Korean War armistice.

Officially, there was the closest secrecy but it was clear that in high quarters of the government there was very strong confidence that agreement on a truce was at hand.

Optimism Grows
There was a notable increase of optimism among officials and some indication the latest Red response could be considered as virtual acceptance of the U. N. proposals of 10 days ago.

According to this interpretation, the only matters left to be negotiated are relatively minor differences.

The Red reply to the U. N. plan for dealing with the deadlock over disposition of prisoners of war was received by the government this morning. The Reds presented it to the U. N. Command at Panmunjom Wednesday night, Washington time.

Last Obstacle Removed
Official secrecy covered reaction at the State and Defense Departments and the White House.

But there were indications that a solution was being reached. It is the prisoner issue which has blocked agreement for many months. It turns on the question of what should be done about prisoners of war who were unwilling to go home after an armistice.

In putting forth their latest plan 10 days ago, the U. N. Command—under direction from Washington—made some concessions on this point.

It dropped a proposal that 34,000 bawky POWs from the North Korean forces should be released in South Korea as soon as the truce became effective.

It also agreed to a system of majority voting in a proposed "neutral" nations truce commission which would supervise the handling of POWs after an armistice.

Meet Again Friday
It reportedly agreed also to let the state of these prisoners be discussed for a limited time at a Korean political conference of the warring powers.

But the U. N. Command insisted that there could be no compromise on its proposal that in the end (1) prisoners refusing to go home should be given their freedom this side of the Iron Curtain, (2) that at no time should they be coerced or intimidated by Red representatives who would be permitted to visit and talk with them after an armistice.

The Panmunjom negotiations were recessed for one day after the Communists made their latest proposals. This was to afford opportunity for full study of the Communist statement in Washington, and for exchanges between officials here and Gen. Mark Clark, the U. N. commander.

The negotiators are to meet again at 8 p. m. CST, Friday, or Saturday morning, Panmunjom time.

Fat Trade Deal Offered British By China Reds

By FRED HAMPSON

HONG KONG (AP)—Communist China is offering Britain fat trade deals of up to 2 1/4 billion dollars.

The offers have been extended by propaganda publications but they are accented enough to make it look as though Peiping really means them.

It could be another maneuver aimed at widening the breach between Britain and the United States on the touchy China trade issue. Or it could be evidence that the Allied embargo is pinching Red China.

Certainly it is a change in tune for Communist propagandists.

One year ago all non-Communist foreign trade was scored as imperialistic poison which China no longer needed.

Four months ago Red propagandists asserted the Western embargo was a failure because it had taught China how to get along without imperialist commerce.

Now the Reds are talking about the benefit of British-China trade and its long history and rich potential.

For example the pro-Communist weekly Economic Bulletin, published in Hong Kong, dangled this bait:

"China is in a position to develop trade with the capitalist countries to the extent of 1 1/2 billion to 2 1/4 billion dollars per year."

Biggest Atom Bomb Ever Blazes In Sky For Over 2 Minutes

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The biggest atom bomb ever exploded in the United States flamed for more than two minutes in the pre-dawn sky today over Nevada Proving Ground.

The fireball boiled for more than 30 seconds, indicating an intensity twice that of any previous bomb or device detonated in the desert. The 20-kiloton Hiroshima bomb had a 10-second fireball.

Dropped from an extremely high-flying B-36, the unprecedented A-bomb flashed across the entire horizon and bathed the desert in a ghostly white light for at least five seconds. Then it formed into a brilliant golden fireball.

Last of Series

The power of this amazing weapon was probably not less than 30 kilotons. The Atomic Energy Commission has previously detonated three devices at Yucca Flat that have had an intensity greater than the so-called nominal or Hiroshima bomb.

Today's blast, 11th and final of the spring series, probably compared favorably with some of the huge explosions reported at the Pacific Proving Grounds at Eniwetok.

The explosion went off exactly at 5:15 a. m., CST. The flash was seen in San Francisco, 400 miles away and in Los Angeles, 250 miles distant.

Strangely, however, the shock which was reported very strong at the AEC control point, was not felt in Las Vegas or by observers on Mt. Charleston, 45 miles from the test site.

Outshines All Others

The fire in the cloud was visible to mountain observers for two minutes and 20 seconds before it faded. Veteran atomic reporters agreed that this far outshone any of the 30 previous blasts in Nevada.

Fires were observed burning on Yucca Flat some 10 minutes later when observers started returning to Las Vegas. The fires probably were in trees, some left over from previous tests this spring. No structures were known to have been involved today.

The burst appeared to be at a height of more than 2,500 feet. The device was dropped from a bomber coming from Kirtland Air Force Base, Albuquerque, N. M., at an altitude of probably 35,000 or 40,000 feet.

This is calculated on the basis of the AEC announcement that it took 42 seconds for the bomb to drop from the plane to its point of detonation.

Observers on the mountain were able to hear the count-down on the drop from the control tower via AEC short wave radio at the Angel's Peak station at the 9,000-foot level.

Dogs Bark

The previous high power of any bomb dropped here is believed to have been about 30 kilotons.

A kiloton is the AEC scientists' term for the equivalent of 1,000 tons of TNT. The nominal or Hiroshima bomb contained the equivalent of 20,000 tons 20 kilotons of TNT.

After the fire spent itself, the atomic cloud hung lazily at about 40,000 feet as the sun came over (Please Turn To Page 6, Col. 4)

Big Fight Foreseen In Senate To Block Air Force Fund Cut

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A "hell of a fight" in the Senate to restore some of the five billion dollars cut from Air Force funds was promised by Sen. Maybank (D-N.C.) today in the wake of President Eisenhower's new defense of his budget.

"We will try to put back whatever is necessary to get the 143-wing Air Force as soon as possible," Maybank said in an interview.

General Disapproves
Eisenhower, on his nation-wide television report to the nation last night, reiterated that his administration plans to spend 60 cents of every defense dollar next year for Navy and Air Force air power, and he declared:

"We are not going to cripple this nation and we are going specifically to keep up its air power."

This was only a few hours after Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, the retiring Air Force chief of staff, had told a Senate appropriations subcommittee that cutting back the Air Force goal from 143 wings would "increase the risk to national security beyond the dictates of national prudence."

Vandenberg, who was called back for questioning by the sharply divided senate group today, said the Air Force did not approve the cutback, "and I did not."

"I would like to ask you to imagine a world in which only one hundred gallons of gasoline existed. When that gasoline was used up, gasoline would forever be gone from the earth. But let us imagine that we could make gasoline out of water by burning the gasoline we had in the presence of water. Let us say, for example, that by burning up our 100 gallons of gasoline we could change 90 gallons of water into new gasoline, and that thereafter we could, by burning gasoline in the presence of water, always make new gasoline equivalent to 90 per cent of that which we burned. By such a process we would quite obviously greatly stretch out our supply of gasoline, but we could hardly expect to stretch it out indefinitely for we would always be making a little less gasoline than we consumed."

Source Not Used Up
"Ultimately we would run out of gasoline before we ran out of water, and all the rest of the water in the world would be useless to us so far as gasoline production was concerned."

"But to pursue our over-simplified (Please Turn To Page 6, Col. 8) cally to keep up its air power."

Atom Power Output Nearer, Says Expert

ATLANTIC CITY (AP)—The United States today announced the successful "breeding" of atomic fuel—that is, the production of at least as much, or more, new fissionable material as is burned up in the process of making it.

The development is one of the most revolutionary in the entire atomic program. It was disclosed by Chairman Gordon Dean of the Atomic Energy Commission in a speech prepared for the Edison Electric Institute.

Dean cautioned his audience of 3,000 electric and power men not to assume that economic power from atomic energy is here. But he called the achievement a milestone of progress and said it "holds out the promise of making a civilian atomic power industry even more feasible and attractive in the long range than it has hitherto appeared to be."

The process, Dean said, was worked out at the AEC's reactor testing station at Arco, Idaho. He illustrated it this way:

"To explain to you the impact of reaching this new milestone, I would like to use an analogy, albeit a greatly over-simplified one."

Molasses Cargo Ties Up Traffic

NEEDHAM, Mass. (AP)—That old saying "as slow as cold molasses" held true Wednesday night.

Traffic was tied up over a large section for three hours when a 5 1/2-ton open-top tractor trailer, loaded with molasses, overturned on Route 128.

Driver Raymond J. Lossier, 30, of Fitchville, Conn., said the truck went over when he swerved to avoid a car.

There was so much molasses over the road that a snow plow had to be brought to the scene to help clean it away.

And that's not all that happened: The cab of the truck caught fire. Then the woods adjacent to the road caught fire.

The trailer went over with such a bang that it gouged the road so badly no traffic could proceed—even after the molasses was cleaned away—until highway men put a new hot-top on the road.

No one was injured.

Demolition Expert Rescues 3 Children In Car Under Water

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—A one-time Coast Guard underwater demolition expert today was credited with saving the lives of three children trapped in a car which plunged into the Charles River with the loss of one life.

The car carrying two women and four children plunged 20 feet down an embankment into the water, wheels up Wednesday night.

Mrs. Joan Monagle, 25, drowned in the driver's seat.

Saved from death were: Mrs. Amy Norton, 25; Mrs. Monagle's two children, Michael, 3, and Brian, 2.

Mrs. Norton's twin children, Catherine and Joseph, who will be two years old Saturday.

John J. McLay, 31, of Lawrence, the former Coast Guard underwater demolition man, brought three children trapped in the car to the water's surface after repeated dives.

Mrs. Norton and one of the children got out through an open window of the convertible.

McLay later told about the part he played:

"I tore off my clothes before I hit the water. I didn't want to get snagged in all the debris or on the edge of the car."

"The first time I dove I felt around with my hands but had to come up for air. It was so dark I couldn't see a thing."

"The second time I found one of the children trapped against the back seat. I brought him to the surface and handed him to the others."

"On the next dive I pulled out a lot of debris and then found another child, also pinned in the back part of the car."

"McLay said that in another dive he came up with what he thought were two more youngsters but they were dolls which he threw on the river bank."

"While I was getting my bubbles on the far side of the car, I traced the bubbles and got the third kid out."

"The woman and others on the shore said there was still one more person in the car so I went down again. I found the woman pinned behind the steering wheel."

"She was in the water about eight minutes by this time and she already was dead."

Convict Search Continues Here

Up to 1:30 today there continued to be no definite new word on the four convicts who escaped from Marquette Prison May 22 and who are thought to be somewhere in the Escanaba area.

Capt. Thor Person, district state police commander from the Marquette post, who is in charge of the search, was extremely conservative in his estimate of the situation this morning. Interviewed in his squad car in the Soo Hill area, Capt. Person said: "We think that they might be in this area and we're searching the area, that's all."

Reports printed elsewhere that police had virtually made contact with the escaped convicts while chasing them through the woods near here were characterized as wildly extravagant and misleading by troopers today.

Intensive search in the Soo Hill area took on new impetus this morning when a Soo Hill resident reported one of his rabbits disappeared during the night. While Capt. Person emphasized state police did not know the convicts had taken the rabbit, the theft was possibly important and could not be overlooked, he said.

The convicts' need for food continued to be a prime subject for speculation among searchers. The effect of Wednesday night's mighty rainstorm on the fleeing men was also cause for speculation.

Law enforcement officers, including Michigan State Police, the Delta County Sheriff's Department, the Michigan Conservation Department, Escanaba City Police and Gladstone City Police, continued to run down innumerable tips last night and this morning. Patrol cars converged quickly on suspected points. No tip led toward the convicts, however.

The four convicts who are the objects of the biggest manhunt in Upper Michigan history are Lloyd Russell, 31, an experienced woodsman thought to be the leader of the group; Joseph McMackin, 35; Charles Morrison, 31; and John McDowell, 40.

Three other convicts who broke out of the Marquette prison with Russell and his group have been recaptured.

THE DESTROYER ESCORT, USS Daniel Joy, flagship of the naval reserve training ships on the Great Lakes, will dock in Escanaba Friday, with the PCE-845, for a three-day weekend liberty for their crews.

Navy Reserve Ships Here This Weekend

The USS Daniel Joy (DE-585), Sunday, June 5, 6, 7, for a mid-cruise liberty for their crews and Naval Reservists.

The USS Daniel Joy is a long hull type destroyer escort, a veteran of World War II combat. It is 306 feet long, with 37-foot beam, speed of 24 knots and displaces 1,450 tons. The commanding officer is Lt. Comdr. Joseph R. Antink.

The PCE-845 is 186 feet long, 33 feet wide and displaces 850 tons. Its speed is about 15 knots. A PCE (Patrol Craft Escort) is primarily an anti-submarine ship used for convoy escort or patrol work.

The Daniel Joy has four crew officers, 80 enlisted men, seven reserve officers and 103 enlisted reservists.

The PCE-845 has three crew officers, 36 enlisted men, six reservist officers and 52 enlisted reservists. Home port of both ships is Chicago.

The main armament of the Daniel Joy are two 5-inch guns. Anti-aircraft batteries consist of 20 mm and 40 mm guns. A destroyer escort is primarily an anti-submarine ship, with depth charges and hedgehog batteries for sub attack.

For training purposes the ships leave their home port on the first day of the cruise and steam continuously for a week. Then they go to another port on the Lakes for weekend liberty. The second

Boat races, log birling, greeting of Old Timers, running and sack races for the children, fishing contests for the young and old, climbing of the greased pole by youngsters, Barbershop Octet singing and speeches by those that knew Ford River in its hey-day will be some of the many activities of the homecoming.

Pictures, postcards or any keepsake of Ford River would be appreciated for use by the Ford River Lions for a display in the Ford River Mill School where registrations will be entered at the school for any people coming to the reunion. These keepsakes will enable people to look into the past.

If any such items are available, phone Phil Miron, 1192-J2, or Ralph Nordquist, 1169-J1. All items will be used with great care and they will be returned to their owners immediately after homecoming.

Helmer C. Bruce, Bark River, Dies

Helmer C. Bruce, one of the leading citizens of Bark River and a prominent figure in Republican politics for many years, died yesterday at 2:45 p. m. at St. Francis Hospital where he had been a medical patient one week. He had been in failing health the past year.

Mr. Bruce, who retired from active operation of his farm at Bark River two years ago had been making his home with a daughter, Mrs. Elmer C. Stenberg of 1111 S. 16th St. in Escanaba.

He was born in Sweden Nov. 14, 1877, and came to this country with his parents when he was 3. The family first lived in Marinette and in 1894 moved to Bark River where the Bruce farm was established. A short time later the father died and Mr. Bruce for many years was the sole support of his mother and brothers and sisters.

He served in political offices in Bark River and Delta County over 30 years. He began his career in politics as township treasurer and subsequently served as township clerk, county supervisor and as Delta County representative in the Michigan State Legislature in which he was particularly active.

He was a charter member of Salem Lutheran Church of Bark River and also was affiliated with the Modern Woodmen of America.

His wife died in June of 1947. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Arthur Kraft of Los

Douglas Named Mead Manager

CHILLICOTHE, OHIO — The Mead Corporation today named George S. Douglas division manager of its operations in Escanaba, Mich. He will assume responsibility for all manufacturing operations of Mead's Michigan Division. E. G. Bennett continues as president of the two companies which make up the Michigan Division, the Escanaba Paper Company and the Upper Michigan Power & Light Company.

Mr. Douglas has been with Mead since he joined the development department as an engineer in April 1937. In January 1940, he was appointed manager of the Wheelwright Division in Leominster, Mass. He was promoted to the post of assistant to the executive vice-president in November 1951.

A native of Tacoma, Wash., Mr. Douglas attended school there. He received his degree in chemical engineering from the University of Washington in 1930. From 1931 to 1937, he worked for Crown Zellerbach at Port Angeles, Wash.

The Douglasses have seven children. They now live in Chillicothe, Ohio, and plan to move to Escanaba later this summer.

Mink Industry Progress Told

About 150 mink ranchers and guests were present Tuesday evening when an interesting talk on mink merchandising was given. The Upper Michigan Mink Breeders Association held its meeting at the Ford River Town Hall.

The guest speaker was Harold Reed of Elkhorn, Wis., who is the advertising committee chairman for the Mink Breeders Association. Reed is also a rancher of long standing and well known in the mink industry.

The Mink Breeders Association is a nation-wide organization which was organized when the mutation mink were first developed about 10 years ago. Its function has been and is to promote through advertising the fur of its member ranchers. Their emblem appears with their ad in all high fashion magazines, and coats bearing this emblem are in great demand. This advertising campaign is paid for by a percentage of the pelt sales of its membership. Membership is on a voluntary basis.

Gain In Membership

Reed said that the MMBA numbered 12 when first organized and represented a sale of 2,200 pelts at that time. Today its membership numbers 3,000 and 850,000 pelts.

The aim in advertising for the mink industry is to keep mink desirable. Mink is a luxury item and, as such, the industry strives to keep it a symbol of the acme of success.

In advertising an attempt is being made to educate the consumer regarding the wide range in price and color. Potential buyers are becoming acquainted with the new types of mutants.

Reed explained that the ranchers of mink have matured. They realize the value of their product and no longer feel the need of selling to the first buyer who makes an appearance. The MMBA plans to market this year's crop of pelts throughout the entire selling season.

Foreign Markets Open

The advertising program of the MMBA is $160,000 for the coming year. Foreign markets are opening for American mink—Paris, South

Escanaba High School Commencement Tonight

The 72nd annual Escanaba High School commencement exercises will be held tonight at 8:15 at Wm. W. Oliver Memorial auditorium in the Junior High School.

Principal Edward E. Edick today announced the list of 155 candidates for graduation in the 1953 senior class. John A. Lemmer, superintendent of schools, will present the graduates with Charles Folio, president of the board of education conferring diplomas. The benediction will be given by the Rev. Gustav Lund, pastor of Bethany Lutheran Church.

Escanaba seniors will present their graduation program, under the direction of John Romstad, entitled "Victory Through Youth and Faith".

Program Characters

The following list of characters will take part: Gary Grenholm, earth; Mary Larson, evil; Charles Bellefeuille, power; Donna Knudson, wealth; Conrad Michael, fame; Ruth Haven, faith; Mary Jo Decker, hope; Geraldine Nichol, love; Nancy Farrell, youth.

List of Graduates

In charge of make-up and costumes are Janet Benard, Maxine Fredrickson, Lucille McPherson, Barbara O'Connor and Carol Severinsen. Working with scenery and lighting are Arnold Breitman, Paul Davidson, Gerald Potvin, James Stasewich, Richard Stratton and Harlan Yelland.

America and even Egypt. Leading fur manufacturers are cooperating in this phase of promotion.

O. Brager-Larson of Harbor Springs, Mich., a well-known authority on mink raising also talked to the group. The ascendancy of mink fur in the fur world, has placed the mink breeder in the position of being an important leader in the entire fur industry. At present there is no fur that can replace mink in natural beauty, appeal to modern woman and in quantities large enough to maintain the fur industry at its present level.

Frank Wawirka, chairman of the Field Day Program, reported that the program will be planned for some day in August at the Wawirka Ranch at Wells.

Two non-participating memberships were accepted: O. Brager-Larson and Ronald Knight of Cedarburg, Wis.

Faculty sponsors are Romstad, director, Alan Mathison, supervisor, and Dennis Foltman, programs.

Take Advantage Of Free X-Ray Service Available In The County

THE mobile x-ray units of the Michigan Department of Health are in Delta County this week and next, offering a free service of great importance to the residents of the area.

The x-ray service has been the greatest single factor in the successful fight against tuberculosis. Once the great white plague, tuberculosis is gradually but steadily losing in the fight with medical science. But tuberculosis can never be licked until the TB cases are discovered and treated. Failure to locate these cases serves only to spread the infection to others.

From the standpoint of the individual, the x-ray service is very important. Not only will the x-ray photos show whether the individual is a victim of tuberculosis but it also will show other conditions that may be harmful to the individual, such as lung cancer, heart abnormalities, etc. And it is a free service.

No appointment is necessary for the x-ray examination. You simply go to the mobile unit, take your turn in line—waiting is usually only a matter of a very few minutes—and walk in. There is no undressing. The whole procedure takes a matter of seconds. Later the Department of Health will inform you of the results of the x-ray. If any abnormalities exist, your physician will also be notified.

Some persons hesitate to have an x-ray examination because they are fearful what the tests will show. That, of course, is a senseless attitude and a dangerous one, too. Even if the x-ray examination indicates that you may have tuberculosis, it is probable that the disease is in an early stage and can be safely treated. To lick tuberculosis, it is important that the disease be located early. In such cases hospitalization is for a much shorter period of time than in cases where the disease has been of long duration.

Modern drugs, too, have been a major factor in the successful treatment of tuberculosis. The disease does not contain the terror to the individual that it did a generation ago.

Plan to visit one of the mobile x-ray units this week or next. It's an investment in good health that you cannot afford to pass up.

Reds Are Unchanged; We Still Can't Relax

NEARLY three years ago the Communists moved into South Korea and thereupon touched off the greatest peace-time defense effort in the history of free nations.

All the evidence which could be unearthed indicated that the Soviet Union, the sponsor of this aggression, was greatly surprised and shocked by the West's violent response to the move.

The defense of Korea was just one phase. NATO, theretofore largely a paper organization, gained muscle and steel. The foreign-military-aid program was born. America's own defense took on greater stature. Finally, six western European countries signed a pact creating a European army, to include 12 divisions from West Germany.

In the political and economic sphere, the Schuman plan for a European coal-and-steel community came into being, important efforts were made to draw the Bonn government closer to the West, and ambitious, European-minded statesmen started drafting a constitution for a United States of Europe.

None of this could have made the Russians happy. They have been trying, one way or another, to reverse these strong currents toward western unity ever since 1950.

The natural delays, complications and disagreements which go with so tremendous a defense effort by a varied group of nations were some assistance to Soviet aims. So were the popular attitudes against making neconomic sacrifices so soon after World War II.

But the real reversal developed gradually with the loss of a sense of urgency in the defense program. Russia contributed to that mood by refraining from fresh aggressions on the Korean model. Despite constant warnings to the contrary from many alert western statesmen, the push toward real western unity and rearmament slowed perceptibly.

The Soviet Union's 1953 "peace offensive" is calculated to accentuate this new trend by putting a powerful brake on common western action. It has raised false hopes in many breasts and provided excuse for turning away from painful decisions.

Yet recent declarations from Moscow have begun to chill the spirit of the hopefuls. The suspicion is growing that Russia does not want a settlement except on its own impossible terms. The Soviet Union's strength has not lessened and its goals have not changed since the big western effort began.

Clearly there is no safety against Russia in doing too little. If we are not to rely upon these measures so brilliantly planned since 1950, then in what alternatives shall we find our security?

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It will probably be denied, but one of the most amazing advice ever given to a cabinet regarding a particular senator has just been suggested to Eisenhower cabinet members—namely, to clear all major policy matters informally with Senator Taft.

This was not handed out to the Eisenhower cabinet as a categorical hard-and-fast order, but rather as a suggestion. However, the effect is just about the same, and the advice is having two important results: 1. Taft, the man whom Eisenhower defeated at Chicago, more than ever is becoming Mr. President. He is in the unique and enjoyable position of having power without official responsibility. While Eisenhower doesn't guarantee to go along with Taft on everything, as, for instance, cooperation with the United Nations, he has leaned farther than any other President in years to give Taft the fullest cooperation—almost veto power—over domestic policies and appointments.

2. Secretary of Labor Durkin is almost certain to resign.

Political enemy No. 1 of the labor movement is Robert Alphonso Taft. Because he authored the Taft-Hartley Act, both the AFL and the CIO did everything in their power to defeat him. Therefore, for the Secretary of Labor, a former AFL executive, to clear policies with the enemy of labor is more than he can take.

Durkin doesn't want to break with Eisenhower, and his AFL colleagues don't relish the idea of a break. But if the instruction to clear with Taft stands, Durkin is almost certain to bow out of the cabinet in the near future.

Note—The Secretary of Labor has felt unhappy about two other things. He has received no help regarding the revision of the Taft-Hartley Act. His colleagues in the cabinet just aren't interested. Second, when he gets to cabinet meetings, Durkin sometimes finds other cabinet members there in advance, gets the impression that certain matters have been decided before his arrival.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

The senate barbershop still charges only 75 cents for a haircut. The price is $1.25 in downtown Washington . . . during his recent illness, Ohio's influential GOP Congressman Clarence Brown had a temperature of 105. He credits Navy doctors at Bethesda Medical Center for saving his life . . . Harry Truman writes to Dean Acheson at least twice a week. The letters contain pithy comments about the new administration's policies (not too complimentary) . . . the State Department had no advance warning before Ambassador Luce announced withdrawal of U. S. aid from Italy in the event De Gasperi's government is overthrown in next Sunday's elections. Her speech didn't help . . . in the last five months Washington's police have put in more than 10,000 hours overtime without pay—most of it during inauguration week . . . Washington's real-estate agents claim Attorney General Brownell got "stuck" on his new $55,000 home. They claim it's a "dog," that he could have bought a much better house for the same money . . . White House haggling continues over five big political plums—one FCC commissioners, two each for the ICC and SEC.

Defense Boss Charlie Wilson and wife attend more "important" parties than any other cabinet family. Wilson "sells" the Defense Department during all social conversations . . . the Democratic National Committee was in a turmoil last week. A trucking company had "lost" 175,000 addressed envelopes ready to be sent out with promotion material for the new "Democratic Digest." The envelopes were finally discovered in Baltimore . . . the Bureau of Internal Revenue will soon lose some of its top "loophole" experts—the sleuths who keep their eyes on big corporations' taxes. The move may cost the taxpayers millions, yet it's being done in the name of economy . . . last week the Bureau of Internal Revenue raided the house of representatives' dining room and seized 131 packs of cigarettes without federal stamps. The cigarettes were intended for the National Training School for Boys but somehow had been diverted to the congressmen. The congressional dining room had been selling the tax-free cigarettes at regular prices.

CHARLIE WILSON'S RABBIT

As the congressional heat increases, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson is groping frantically to justify his curtailment of the Air Force. Latest grope is to pull a brand-new atomic rabbit out of the hat.

This is the theory that we have developed more powerful atomic bombs since the 143-wing Air Force was planned two years ago, therefore we can deliver the same punch with a smaller Air Force.

Real fact: The plan to cut the budget came first; the idea that we had stronger atomic bombs was thought up afterward.

Further fact: The new Wilson strategy is based on a study of atomic strength that hasn't been completed. The report isn't even due until July.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Manistique—Dr. N. Berneta Block, director of the Alger-Schoolcraft health department since February 15, has resigned her position here to become director of maternal and child health and crippled children services for health department of the Territory of Alaska administered by the United States Public Health Service.

Gladstone—William Marshall was elected chief of the Gladstone Volunteer Fire department at the annual election conducted by the volunteer organization. Ernest DeLoogne was named as 1st assistant chief.

20 YEARS AGO

Menominee—Grover C. Dillman, Michigan state highway commissioner, in a talk at Menominee agreed that US-241 in the Upper Peninsula is badly in need of improvement.

Gladstone—A total of 2,700 persons were provided with welfare relief during the month of May in Gladstone.

Starting Early:

Younger Ages, Worse Crimes: Today's Juvenile Delinquency

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA) — Social workers used to say that the juvenile delinquent of today is the criminal of tomorrow. They've changed that to fit current conditions: the juvenile delinquent of today is the criminal of today.

More and more children are falling into the category of juvenile delinquency. They are starting younger. And, what is most serious of all, children nowadays don't stop with breaking a window or stealing a candy bar. Now they commit grown-up crimes like murder, rape, arson, larceny, assault.

A study of statistics compiled by government agencies, plus a cross-country check by NEA Service, Inc., spotlights this tragic situation.

1. Juveniles today commit serious crimes. They are no longer merely mischievous; now they are full-scale enemies of society while still in their teens. For example, 61.7 per cent of all persons arrested for burglary in the U. S. last year were under 21.

2. The age at which children commit serious crimes is steadily decreasing. It's hard to think of a 14-year-old as a real criminal, yet more than 13 per cent of all persons arrested for auto theft last year were under 15, and almost one out of every four arrested burglars was under 15.

3. This is not just a big city problem. The Children's Bureau keeps track of the number of delinquents brought to court. Between 1948 and 1951, the number went up substantially, but it went up more in places where the population was less than 100,000. Some smaller cities noted a 50 per cent increase in that period.

4. The situation will almost surely get even worse, for the simple reason that there will be more children. The Bureau of Census figures show that, by 1960, we'll have 42 per cent more children in the juvenile delinquency age bracket than we had in 1951.

Why is juvenile crime on the rise? Nobody knows for sure.

One factor is the troubled age we live in. Traditionally, times of war produce unrest among youth, and that unrest often finds an outlet in crime. Our age, the age of the Cold-and-Korean Wars, has been no exception. Since 1948, delinquency cases have risen 19 per cent.

Another obvious cause is the lack of facilities and sympathetic treatment for youngsters who get in trouble. In many cities, once a juvenile comes in contact with the law he falls into the same routine that services hardened adult criminals. An estimated 50,000 to 100,000 children each year are held in common jails. Their chances of "going straight" are slim.

A third cause is the historic one that plagues cities—nothing for the children to do, except gather in the corner pool room or other trouble-breeding spots. Nothing to do but hang around. Hanging around spells trouble.

In New York, there is a local CBS radio program called "This Is New York." Its conductor, Bill

THE FINGER IS ON YOUTH in this line-up, and all over the nation. Juvenile crime is steadily increasing in seriousness.

a section that's rife with crime. He asked one teen-ager what he did after school, and the answer is a classic description of Step 1 on the road to juvenile crime:

"Just hang around. We have nowhere to go. Go to community center. There's nothing much there to do because they don't have much equipment there, from what I see. Basketballs, but not enough to go around. And when we do go in there, most of the times hang around there and get sick of hanging around there, so I come out and I go to hanging around—just hang around and talk."

That leads to Step 2, the gang: "What happens is a group of kids get together and pick a name and make it a club, and maybe they'll go out and play basketball or something, and stick together as a team—a basketball team—then some other gang comes along. They don't like what you did and they come down, and they don't like the Saxons from 110th Street or something, so they come over and they start trouble."

And then comes Step 3, crime: "If we're going out on a stickup or breaking into a car, we don't do that as a whole gang, together. A whole gang is too many at a time. Two or three guys, that's better. But being in a gang, that's where you get the idea, you learn the ropes, you learn how to make a zip gun. And if you get in trouble, well, you know you got friends if you're in a gang."

In New York, the pattern is plain. Police Department figures show boys under 16 to be advanced criminals. In the first six months of 1952, the under-16 group committed nine homicides, 31 cases of rape, 185 cases of robbery, 117 of felonious assault, 809 of burglary, 138 of grand larceny and 238 of automobile theft.

In Cleveland, juvenile delinquency statistics haven't risen appreciably, but the techniques of juveniles delinquents have changed. "The kids today," says Capt. Arthur Roth, head of the Cleveland Crime Prevention Bureau, "are using more violent armor. Years ago they seldom used brass 'knucks' or knives, but today they Leonard, took a tape recorder into use guns, brass and lead knuckles and knives with six-inch blades. Their deeds are more violent."

In San Francisco, among the 2069 juveniles arrested during 1951, there was a six-year-old boy charged with burglary and a nine-year-old girl charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

In Chicago, police expect the 1953 total of delinquents—age 10 to 17—to be 22 per cent above the 1950 total. Increases were also noted in Atlanta and Kansas City, Mo., although in the latter city the increase was attributed solely to a population rise.

But there can be no doubt about the nationwide situation. From 1948 to 1951, all major offenses committed by juveniles rose sharply. During the first six months of 1952, there were more serious crimes committed by 18-year-olds than by any other single age group. And, of all persons arrested for any crime last year, 7.8 per cent were 17 or less.

Juvenile delinquency is getting more juvenile and more delinquent with each year.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

GRADUATION—Millions of young people in thousands of high schools across the land are graduating this week. They are receiving diplomas, having honors and responsibilities conferred upon them, and being told that they are the hope of America's future.

This is a sign that parents—at least once each year—recognize the value of their progeny.

All too often the youngsters obtain the somewhat frustrating notion that parents and older folks in general neither understand them nor want to. From the time they were babies they have been doing things that required parental correction.

Now rather suddenly they are classified as Our Pride and Joy, Worthy Graduate, and The Hope of The Future. They also receive graduation gifts.

CHANGING VIEWPOINT—This situation does not develop as swiftly as the young people or their parents may think. Usually about four years—those four years of high school training—are required to bring about this happy adjustment between the younger and older generations.

Nevin Reynolds, Escanaba Rotary Club president, at a recent honor day luncheon for students and their parents, described this change by relating a Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain) story.

Clemens claimed that when he graduated from high school he suddenly realized that his father was not the stupid, uneducated man he had thought him to be when Sam entered high school four years previously.

The boy or girl graduate is at that point in developing maturity when parents become more than Mom and Dad. They become people with recognizable human virtues and weaknesses, and the young folks can now look beyond the purely family relationship to admire the virtue and forgive the weakness.

BEYOND ORATORY — An increasing number of schools are eliminating the commencement speaker and substituting a program in which the graduates participate.

This is to the good, in our opinion, for we have never known a graduation speaker who has not said too much when it would have been preferable to say less.

For the graduating class by commencement time has just about reached the end of its oratorical endurance. They have been talked to at baccalaureate, assembly, class night, luncheon, dinner, and at home. They have been told several times how wonderful they are and how much more wonderful they must be in the years ahead. The responsibilities of the past will be multiplied in the future. They must not only conquer the world but, like Atlas, must uphold it.

NOT ALL HAPPINESS—The happy excitement of graduation is sometimes mingled with unfortunate regret.

When the honors are accorded, when the scholarships, the pins and keys and watches are presented, there will always be the students who tried for first place but came in second or third.

Sometimes the parents make the boy or girl still more unhappy by a show of disappointment, by a display of envy, by being critical of the honor students, the faculty, the school.

By this attitude they overlook an opportunity to encourage a spirit of sportsmanship in their own child, and they hurt their own child more than they will ever know.

THE YEARS AHEAD—After graduation comes a time of adjustment for both the graduate and his family.

If the boy or girl goes away to school or to find work elsewhere the break is most pronounced. If they stay at home for a time the adjustment is more gradual.

In one home after two sons graduated and went to college the mother for several months methodically placed five plates on the table—although there were only three left in the family!

This habit, like many others parents and their children acquire through the long years of family living, must be broken after graduation. It is a time of beginning as well as ending.

Most encouraging, however, is the revived faith and hope in the hearts of older folks that in these high school graduates is the culmination of combined effort by parents and teachers to turn out the best possible product, and that they will measure up to the faith and hope placed in them.

Questions and Answers

Q—I read that Congress is considering a bill allowing it to grant immunity from prosecution to some witnesses to encourage them to talk before Congressional committees. Has Congress ever had such power before?

A—Yes. In the last century, Congress operated under similar authority, and that bit of history is being recalled by opponents of the new bill. So many witnesses were granted immunity that Congress repealed the law so to avoid excessive interference with prosecution.

The Doctor Says . . . Penicillin Attacks Infections, Helps Halt Rheumatic Fever

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

About one in every hundred school children is believed to have congenital heart disease, rheumatic fever or rheumatic heart disease. This sounds pretty bad, and it is in a way, but there are many encouraging developments.

Congenital heart disease, that disease present at birth, is far less common than rheumatic heart disease. I shall say nothing about it in this column except that developments in heart surgery have meant that many youngsters with some kinds of congenital heart disease can be operated on successfully and returned practically to normal.

The greatest amount of heart disease in children is the result of rheumatic fever. This disease strikes most commonly between the ages of five and 15, but it is not confined to these ages by any means. Although it appears that some progress is being made in treatment, the really giant strides have been made in prevention.

The greatest danger from rheumatic heart disease, which is the most serious complication of rheumatic fever, is the result of repeated attacks. It is known, however, that most attacks of rheumatic fever are preceded two or three weeks earlier by infections with certain kinds of streptococci (which are germs), such as tonsillitis, sore throat, scarlet fever, or infections of the middle ear.

Since this is the case, it is readily apparent that if these streptococcal infections could be attacked when they occur the chances of bouts of rheumatic fever would be lessened.

A short, intensive course of treatment with penicillin, if it can be given at the first sign of streptococci infection, helps to prevent the first attack of rheumatic fever.

It should be mentioned that rheumatic fever itself is not contagious, but that most of the preliminary infections with streptococci are, and therefore anyone exposed to someone with a streptococcal infection should also be checked over.

In an excellent pamphlet called "Heart Disease in Children," recently published by the American Heart Association, some common sense health precautions are suggested for parents and teachers:

PREVENT SORE THROAT

Keep the child away from other children and adults who have colds or sore throats; give the youngster a bed and a separate bedroom, if possible; dress him suitably for bad weather, and make sure that wet clothes are changed promptly; use proper diet, exercise and rest to keep the child in good general health; don't nag the youngster about his health or frighten him into being too cautious.

If the child gets a cold or sore throat, don't blame yourself or the child, but take him to the family doctor so that he can be treated with penicillin or a sulfa if a dangerous streptococcal infection is present.

Oklahoma City Zoo Water Cut

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—All the alligator and other residents of Lincoln Park Zoo are going to have to get along with only one bath a day in this blistering 95-degree heat.

This decree comes from the city manager's office, which is worried about a water shortage. Two baths a day for the alligator? Why there's hardly enough water for people, say the city fathers.

There's an emergency election coming up June 30 that may ease the situation. The voters will have an opportunity to vote bonds for new wells. But Al the alligator and Bill the chimpanzee probably will get pretty sticky before that's done.

Only the ducks are unaffected. They've got a whole lake to themselves.

The trouble is, it isn't raining like it ought to. It hasn't for two years. Oklahoma City's two reservoirs, Lakes Hefner and Overholser, are rapidly going dry.

Hence the emergency election, so that Al the alligator may have his two showers daily, and so the people may drink when they're thirsty. If the proposed two million dollar bond is voted June 30, wells will be dug and all will be fine.

Hyde

Family Reunion

A family reunion honoring Mr. and Mrs. Philip Barbeau was held on Memorial Day at the Louis Johnson farm. An outdoor picnic dinner was served to the guests. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Barbeau and children, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Clairmont and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Meyer and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Barbeau and children, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Barbeau, Agnes and Frieda Barbeau, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cole and children, Mrs. Kate Cole of Gladstone, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Schmitt and daughter of Ford River, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Johnson and children, Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson and daughter, John Laperriere, Charles Johnson, Paul Gardener, and Leo Whitlow of Chicago.

Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Seward of Tacoma, Wash. have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Emil Porath and Mr. and Mrs. August Severinson the past week. Mr. Seward is a former resident of Hyde. This is the first time in 35 years that Mr. Seward has been together with his two sisters, Mrs. Porath and Mrs. Severinson. The Searwards will leave for Washington this week.

Mrs. Alex Johnson has been admitted to St. Francis Hospital for medical treatment.

Walter Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Johnson, has been admitted to St. Francis Hospital for medical treatment.

Donald Dahlke has returned here for the summer which he will spend at the home of his parents. He was employed in Milwaukee.

John McDonald of Milwaukee visited with Robert Muther Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lindquist motored to Munising Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Borden and family, Mrs. August Hartwig and son, George, visited with relatives at Marinette Memorial Day.

Mrs. Lawrence and children of Albion, Mich. visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Borden and with other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Plansky of Wilson spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Borden.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pinozek and Mrs. Alex Muther spent Sunday with Alex Muther at Pinecrest Sanatorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Beauchamp of Perkins have recently purchased the Bruce Scoggin farm and they moved there last week. Visitors at their home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Lippens, Mrs. Benny Lippens, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lippens, Mr. and Mrs. Pamphil Depuydt and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Depuydt, all of Perkins.

Cornell

Birthday Party

CORNELL—Nels Swanson was guest of honor at a surprise birthday party at his home in Cornell Saturday evening. The group enjoyed dancing for entertainment. A birthday cake centered the table for the party. Attending were Gerald and Geraldine Miron, Shirley Hardy, Melvin Olson, Allan Budinger, David Terrien, Skippy Mattson, Juanita Carlson, Yvonne Gamache, Shirley Groskoff, Arlene Woodard, George McFadden, Freddy Thompson of Cornell, Kenney Swanson, of Escanaba, Theresa Robert, Flat Rock.

Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. James Ray left for Detroit where they will visit friends and relatives.

A pontoon bridge carrying traffic across the harbor of Willemstad, Curacao, must be swung aside to admit ocean liners to the port, the National Geographic Society notes.

RICHARD H. CLEEREMAN, 1407 First Avenue South, son of Mr. Thyra Cleereman, will receive the degree of bachelor of science in business administration at Marquette University, Milwaukee, Thursday, June 11. He is a member of the Finance and Commerce Clubs at Marquette.

Fairport

FAIRPORT—Approximately 35 domestic rabbits were killed within a week in Fairport. Three pens were raided—Gordon Barbeau's on Saturday night, Richard Barbeau's on Wednesday night and Lloyd Ranguette's on Friday night. Traps were set around the pen at Ranguette's and a beautiful white speckled water spaniel was caught in the trap.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Talman motored to Sturgeon Bay last week and spent a few days with relatives there.

Mr. and Mrs. Adson Casey made a business trip to Pensaukee, Wisconsin last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Peterson of Escanaba visited with relatives and friends here on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Talman and son of Sturgeon Bay visited with relatives here Sunday.

Sunday guests at the Harry DeVets were Pete Berger and sons of Manistique and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bousley of Dunbar and Mr. and Mrs. Alpha Bousley and daughters of Armstrong.

The School Picnic was held in the Town Hall Monday because of rain.

Injured Girl, 4, Told Parents Are Dead And Won't Come See Her

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Shirley Harmon, a lonely 4-year-old, knows now why her mommy and daddy haven't visited her in the hospital here.

She asked why they hadn't sent gifts for her birthday Thursday.

That's when the attending surgeon told her that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Len Ray Harmon of Decatur, Ind., and an infant sister were killed in the train-car crash that sent her here for delicate brain operations.

But Shirley has more books, dolls and other toys than she'll ever use. They flooded in from people in 33 states who read about Shirley wondering why she saw only strangers at the hospital.

Chaplain Paul W. Strickland of Missouri Baptist Hospital suggested that any future gifts be in the form of money for a trust fund her uncle and guardian, William Bell of Greenwood, Ark., is setting up for her and a 7-year-old brother, Gerald.

Bell and his wife visited Shirley at the hospital Tuesday. They will make a home for Shirley and her brother.

The accident occurred near Cypress, Ill., May 9.

Royalty Robbed

LONDON (AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Sutherland arose early Tuesday to attend the coronation and discovered jewelry they valued at 30,000 pounds ($84,000) had been stolen from their home.

The back door was open but there was no sign of forced entry.

It was the duchess' second jewel theft in less than three years. In November, 1950, thieves lifted 50,000 pounds ($140,000) worth of gems from her Surrey estate.

In both instances, the jewels were generations-old family heirlooms.

B. ney-Green School

Bill Willour Jr. returned to Bay City where he is employed following a visit with his parents Mr. and Mrs. William Willour.

The School Picnic was held in the Town Hall Monday because of rain.

Rock

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Koski spent the weekend in Waukegan. Mrs. Mrs. Ethel Englund returned with them to spend a week in Rock. Bobby Koski remained in Milwaukee, where he already had obtained work for the summer. Carol Englund will accompany her mother to spend the summer in Waukegan.

A 2 c and Mrs. Robert Berg of Panama City, Fla., will be visiting with Mr. and Mrs. John Berg for approximately three weeks. Airman Berg has a furlough from the Tyndall Air Base. Mrs. Berg also visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Lastic of Trenary, and attended the graduation of her sister Loretta at Trenary last week.

A family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schmeltzer in Marquette Memorial Day. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Walfrid Salo and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlson of Rock, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Carlson and family of Gladstone, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy LaCrosse and children from Sault Ste. Marie.

The LaCrosse family visited with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlson Sunday before returning home.

Mrs. Emil Debacker and father have returned from their visit with Mr. and Mrs. Art Gabrielson of Frankfort. When Mrs. Debacker arrived at her sister's last week, she was honored at a birthday celebration.

Donald Micheau has obtained work on a Great Lakes carrier. James Micheau left for Milwaukee last week and now is employed there.

Melvin Manty, Tauno Pelto and Leslie Koski left Tuesday morning for Milwaukee to seek employment.

Solons Warned Not To Pose As Policy Experts

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) said today too many congressmen talk too big as "overnight experts" on foreign policy and other vital issues.

Wiley, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, appealed for more restrained speech by lawmakers, and he renewed a contention that it would be "sheer suicide" to go it alone in Korea.

Taft Praised

He praised Sen. Taft of Ohio, the Senate Republican leader, as "the loyal captain of the Eisenhower team" and emphasized there is no personal quarrel between him and Taft, despite their differing foreign policy views.

* Taft recently advocated that the U. S. forget the United Nations in Korea if truce talks fail, and said the U. S. should reserve to itself a free hand in the Far East.

President Eisenhower has said he does not agree with Taft on those views.

Taft returned to the Capitol yesterday, after undergoing medical treatment. He said he had no comment on Eisenhower's remarks at last Thursday's news conference.

Can't Go It Alone

Wiley suggested that in advancing his proposal "Sen. Taft has expressed the sentiments of deep displeasure among many of the American people with regard to certain questionable actions and irritating inaction by our allies. There is no blinking at that fact."

He said he had in mind particularly Western allies' trade with the Chinese Communists. But he insisted none of these differences "justified any mistaken notion of going it alone." Such a course, he said, is "totally out of place in the hard, cold, dangerous atomic world of the 20th century. It is based on blind, wishful thinking of the most perilous sort."

On other points in a foreign policy speech prepared for delivery to the conference of non-governmental organizations, Wiley:

1. Renewed his opposition to a constitutional amendment proposed in Congress by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to prohibit the making of treaties and other international agreements which affect U. S. internal laws. "It could gravely jeopardize the role of our Chief Executive in spearheading American foreign policy," Wiley said.

2. Called for approval of an administration bill to admit 240,000 alien refugees over and above present immigration quotas.

3. Voiced deep concern over proposed curbs on foreign trade, particularly on imports of residual fuel oil from Venezuela.

4. Endorsed the $5,400,000,000 administration foreign aid bill, and counseled against drastic cuts in it.

New Trails Blazed

Wiley said Eisenhower has "blazed new trails for a more dynamic, more effective American foreign policy," and that his administration is striving for team work with Congress.

He said he hoped senators not on the foreign relations committee, in considering bills which may have repercussions on foreign policy, should "weight their actions, not just in terms of how those reactions will be applauded in 'Pocono' (another word for back home), but in terms of what the reaction will be throughout the chaotic world of 1953."

"I want to say very frankly that I believe that the congressmen who are not members of the foreign policy committees should have a stronger sense of caution and restraint when they approach the difficult foreign policy field," he said.

Big Fight Foreseen In Senate To Stop Air Force Fund Cut

30 to 75 planes each, the buildup target for 1955.

Vandenberg declared that even a force of 143 wings would be a "one-shot Air Force" because it would have "no reserve at all."

The Air Force chief of staff said that in another year Russia will have "a stockpile of atomic weapons sufficient to mount a devastating attack on the United States," and he declared:

"If this country is to have a chance for victory in any major war, it must have an air force that is second to none."

"Rather than reduce our efforts to attain air superiority over the Communists, we should now increase those efforts. An air force of not less than 143 wings is the minimum force which can assure the ability of this nation to resist successfully an all-out Communist attack."

Earlier, Secretary of the Air Force Talbott had said the program increasing new combat aircraft is still geared to the 143-wing goal, and he told the senators if Congress voted more money than the administration asked, it could not be spent intelligently. However, he said additional funds would make it possible to train more crews and set up more bases.

"It is my considered opinion," Talbott said, "that the Air Force budget now before you is a sound one at this time."

'Family Circle' Talks Cover U. S. Attitude On War

proach to the farm surplus problem; Atty. Gen. Brownell, promising to uphold every bad security risk in the government "in the next few months."

For further variety, Eisenhower quoted from a letter from a Pawtucket, R. I., housewife—not named—who said the government's spending figures are so huge she finds it almost impossible to grasp them.

No Quick Cure-All

"I might tell the lady," Eisenhower said dryly, "so do I." Many a member of Congress watched this panel production—which, the President said, is the first of a series.

Republicans generally found it Grade A.

"An exceptional presentation," said Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.) Democrats were less ready to cheer.

"I don't see anything to comment on," said House Democratic Leader Rayburn (R-Tex.) Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.), however, called the program "a very effective innovation."

Speaking of security problems, Eisenhower said with reference to his forthcoming talks with Prime Minister Churchill and the French premier:

"Remember, in these vast problems there is no thought that you can cut the knots; you must untie them slowly and laboriously."

Stability Is Goal

Eisenhower went on to a discussion of other problems: The deficit: "During 17 of the past 20 years we have gone into debt. Borrowing cheapens money. That is like water in your coffee."

Economy: "These expensive military establishments are going to be maintained at the most economic way possible. You are going to get one dollar's worth for every dollar we spend." The excess profits tax: "It is inequitable, it is unjust, it is clumsy, and it is awkward. But . . . it must not be taken off until we can reduce the individual income taxes."

Agriculture: "We are going to have stability in farm income and we are going to do it with no farmer being taken over by the government . . . It is unthinkable that the United States should have wheat moulding and crops spoiling and people—friends of ours—should be starving."

Government employee security: "We go after the weeds of disloyalty but we don't want to uproot a single good plant . . . The great mass of our federal employees are a wonderful, dedicated group of men and women whose jobs are going to be protected."

Court Will Hear Dismissal Motion In Kjellgren Suits

A hearing will be held Tuesday afternoon June 9 in Circuit Court in Marquette on the motion of Blanche O'Connor, who is administratrix of the estate of Oscar and Eileen R. Kjellgren of Escanaba, to dismiss damage suits against the estate totaling $123,965.

Judge Glenn W. Jackson of Gladstone is circuit judge. The damage suits arose out of an auto accident Feb. 1 on US-2 near Hermansville, in which four persons were killed including Mr. and Mrs. Kjellgren.

Bringing the suits whose dismissal Blanche O'Connor has moved are Edward Jasonowicz, administrator of the estate of the dead driver of the other car in the accident, Walter Jasonowicz of Norway; Joseph Rocchietti, Norway, a passenger in Jasonowicz' car; Fedore Racine, administrator of the estate of the deceased Betty Anne Racine of Iron River, another passenger; and Betty J. Olson, Stamborough, also a passenger.

Plaintiffs' declarations in the damage suits were filed with the Delta County Clerk May 18.

County Aviation Queen Is Sought

One girl from Alger, Delta and Schoolcraft counties will have the opportunity of competing for the title of Miss Michigan Aviation next month. Each county will select a girl, and a winner will be chosen from these three to compete in the Michigan contest.

The Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce will select the Delta County girl. The requirements for this selection are that she must be single, 18-27 inclusive, and a permanent resident since January 7, 1953.

The judging will be based on a photo of the girl. The photos must be 3x5, and the entry blanks may be obtained from Ben Johns, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, or Fred Sensiba, manager of the Escanaba Airport. All entry blanks must be in by June 12, 1953.

The girl who is chosen from the three counties will have her photograph entered in the state contest.

The flash set dogs to barking in Las Vegas residential areas. No troops were involved today, but the Air Force continued its indoctrination program with a flight of planes over the test site.

Civil effects studies included flash tests on the eyes of rabbits—awakened in time for the burst by alarm clocks in their cages. The animals had one eye taped shut, the other open and exposed to the flash.

Dogs and mice were also stationed at varying distances from the blast point.

Mead Corp. Gets $12,500,000 Loan

DAYTON, OHIO—H. T. Mead, financial vice-president, announced today that The Mead Corporation had borrowed from a group of insurance companies composed of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Milwaukee, Wis., the John Hancock Mutual Life Ins. Co. of Boston, Mass., and the Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co. of Springfield, Mass., and the Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada, on an issue of $12,500,000 twenty-year Sinking Fund Notes which will bear interest at the rate of 4 1/2%.

Mr. Mead said that the new loan agreements provide for a call on an additional $2,500,000 until June 30, 1954 on the same terms. Sinking Fund payments commence June 1, 1959, and payments from that date until 1967 are at the rate of $700,000 per annum and from 1968 to 1973 are, $1,300,000 per annum.

The new loan replaces $9,625,000 of notes outstanding due 1953-1966, which have been retired.

Mr. Mead stated that the proceeds will be added to the general working funds of the Corporation. He added that the loan agreements in the opinion of the management provide sufficient funds for the completion of the Corporation's current mill improvement and expansion program.

Rock, Perkins Lions Install New Officers

ROCK — Herb Westlund and Gus Klein were installed as the presidents of Rock and Perkins Lions Clubs, respectively, at a joint installation at the Rock Club house on Monday night, June 1.

Officers were installed by immediate past president, Arne Roine. Those absent were installed by proxy. The following are the officers of the Rock Lions club for the coming year: First vice president, Ernest Fosterling; second vice president, Paul Ramseth; third vice president, Arnold Sayen; secretary, Arne Johnson, treasurer, Victor Mankiewicz; dues secretary, John Norman Jr.; tail twister, Thorval Hansen; lion tamer, Emil Lusardi; board of directors, 2 year terms, Waino Mattila and Eino Salmi.

Perkins Lions new slate of officers for next year are: first vice president, Clayton Norden; second vice president, Frank Gudwer; third vice president, Joe Decremmer; secretary, Frank Falkies, treasurer, Leo Godin; tail twister, Ray Leroux; board of directors, William DeKeyser Sr., Henry Gustafson, Ray Norden and Girard Dupuyat.

Sheehan Is Speaker

Frank Salmi of Rock and William DeKeyser Sr., of Perkins were the retiring presidents.

Ralph Sheehan, of Marquette, sergeant in Michigan State Police, former district governor and International director of Lions, gave a very informative talk on the history of the Lions of Michigan at the dinner program of the Lions, ladies and guests.

The first Lions club in Michigan was formed at Marquette inn 1918, when two Texans came up and sold the idea to enough citizens of Marquette that they should have a club that would be an inspiration to the community. After that, about thirteen clubs were formed and then the progress was stagnated until about 1934 when Vincent Johnson was elected district governor. From then on, the progress that has been made, has been unparalleled in the history of the Lions.

There are now 54 clubs in the Upper Peninsula and more being chartered in the near future. The Lions International has a half a million members and is the largest service club organization of its kind in the world. The Lions do not consider any town too small for chartering a Lions club.

Recalls Organizing Effort

Sheehan extended tribute to the Rock club for its progress and inspiration to the community and to clubs elsewhere during its ten years existence. In reminiscence, he took the club back to Feb., 1934 when the Rock Lions Club was organized. It has since grown to boast of 75 members. It was one of the first small towns to have its own Lions Club. Now it has the largest membership for a town its size.

The Rock Lions Club was the first in Michigan to have and to own its own clubhouse, which was dedicated June 3, 1946. Ralph Sheehan was once again the principal speaker.

As the years passed, some of the members of the Rock Lions who lived in Perkins, thought they should have their own Lions club, and so the Perkins Lions were organized, but the two clubs still get together to enjoy a dinner and dance.

Lions and Ladies from Perkins who attended the joint banquet party were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gustafson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Falkies, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Godin, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Klein, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Norden, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gudwer, Mr. and Mrs. Ray

Delta County 4-H Girl Wins Washington Trip

EAST LANSING — Michigan's four top 4-H Club members are going to Washington, D. C., this month to attend National Club Camp. The trip award is the highest honor that can come to a 4-H Club member in the Wolverine State.

The four—Donald Tirrell of Eaton county, Everell Miron of Delta county, Doris Kowalk of Clinton county and Calvin Ball of Emmet county—will be in the nation's capital June 17-24. They were selected for the award last September on the basis of their leadership, personality, future plans and past records.

The youths will be treated to a week of fun, sightseeing and inspirational speeches by some of the nation's top personalities. They will have an opportunity to meet President Dwight D. Eisenhower and other officials of the government.

Donald, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tirrell of Charlotte, has been in 4-H Club work for 11 years. He has carried projects in sheep, handicraft, tractor maintenance and junior leadership, winning a trip to National Club Congress in Chicago for his achievements.

Everell, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Miron of Cornell, has been in 4-H Club work for seven years. Active in community betterment programs, Miss Miron also has carried a wide variety of club projects. They include clothing, food preparation, canning, gardening, dairying and knitting. She has a large number of red and blue ribbons to show for her accomplishments.

Doris, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kowalk of Route 4, Lansing, has been in 4-H Club work for 10 years. Now a freshman at Michigan State College, Miss Kowalk has been active as a 4-H Club leader for four years. In her own club work, she has carried projects in dairy, gardening, health, canning, food preparation, clothing, knitting and sewing. Her work toward community betterment is outstanding.

Calvin, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Ball Sr., of Levering, has been in 4-H Club work for 11 years. A freshman at Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton, he has carried many projects, including gardening, dairy, handicraft and forestry. Following his win of the junior premier potato growers award in his region, he was awarded a trip to National Club Congress in Chicago.

The all-expense-paid trip to National Club Congress is furnished by Sears Roebuck Foundation.

Students, Parents Honored By Rotary

Honor students of Escanaba High School and St. Joseph's High School and their parents were guests of the Escanaba Rotary Club yesterday noon at the Delta Hotel. The Rev. Fr. Joseph J. Dunleavy, pastor of St. George's Church, Bark River, was the principal speaker.

Nevin Reynolds, Rotary Club president, welcomed the students and parents to the annual recognition luncheon.

Rev. Fr. Stephen Schneider introduced the honor students of St. Joseph's High School, and the honor students of Escanaba Senior High School's graduating class were presented by Principal Edward E. Edick. The students introduced their parents.

Miss Ann Aronson and Con Michael, Rotary watch award recipients, responded with expressions of appreciation.

The Rotary Club presented roses to Miss Maxine Berntsen, honor student of Escanaba Senior High School, in recognition of her fight to successfully recover from the effects of polio.

In his talk to the students and parents Fr. Dunleavy stressed the necessity to accept scholastic honors with a humble spirit. The parents were lauded for the good training and moral influence conferred upon their children.

Wells School Board Sells Bond Issue

The Wells Township School Board at a special meeting held last night at the Wells School opened bids from four bonding companies. These bids concerned the interest on the loan of $100,000 authorized by the Wells Township voters for the construction of new schools at Wells and Soo Hill.

The lowest bid and the bid unanimously accepted for $3,394 per cent interest from Stranahan-Harris and Company of Toledo, Ohio. At this rate the interest payments will amount to not more than $28,098 on the loan. In the face of the present unsettled bond market this figure represents a low rate of interest on this bond issue.

The School Board has been assured of very quick approval on the final plans of the Wells School. Following this approval, construction bids will be asked for.

Refrigerator Truck Theft Only A Rumor

A rumor that a refrigerator truck loaded with hams had been stolen in the Upper Peninsula proved to be only a rumor today.

Michigan State Police of the Iron Mountain post reported that a refrigerator truck broke down at Loretto. The truck's Canadian driver, worried about his cargo of hams, asked troopers to locate the driver of another company truck which the Canadian believed to be at the Straits. Also, state police said, the driver of the crippled truck wanted state police posted on his whereabouts in case his company tried to reach him.

Troopers of the Iron Mountain post, busy with the search for escaped Marquette convicts, did not know how the truck driver's predicament was finally resolved.

Canadian Hermit Returns To Bush

OTTAWA, (P)—A 67-year-old who likes cities only on coronation days started his 2,000-mile journey back to the North Alberta wilds Wednesday. He's traveling the same way he came—by bicycle.

"Just call me Johnny," said the tanned little man who explained he got tired of the city in 1945, took his savings and headed for the bush. He built a shack—"I wouldn't tell you where for a million dollars"—and lived like a hermit, but this spring he got the idea of seeing Ottawa's coronation celebration.

"I was there last time so I figured I might join in saluting the new Queen," he said.

Starting April 7, he bicycled 40 or 50 miles a day, slept out and cooked his own meals. His one good suit, in his kitbag, went to an Ottawa presser Monday night.

Today Johnny was heading back, with 2,000 more miles of pedaling ahead, but "it was worth every mile. If every day was the same, maybe I'd stay a little longer."

State Starving Georgia Sisters

MEIGS, Ga. (AP)—Two elderly sisters today began the third day of a hunger strike "for the sake of the needy aged of Georgia."

Mary Hicks, 77, and Mildred Hicks, 73, former schoolteachers, tacked a neatly written notice on the front door of their modest home as they began their hunger strike. It reads:

"In October, 1951, we filed with the Welfare Department of Thomas County an application for an old-age pension for Mildred Hicks, totally blind. The application has been treated with stony silence.

"For the crime of outliving our savings the Welfare Department has sentenced us to death by starvation. After waiting 19 months we now submit to that sentence.

"We are convinced that we have no choice but starvation unless there is a vital change in the administration of welfare in Georgia.

"We are beginning this hunger strike now—while we have something left in the bank to pay for shelter while we are starving and for cremation in case of our death.

"We are not making this statement merely to win a living for ourselves. We are doing it for the sake of all the needy aged of Georgia. We believe our death would contribute more to this cause than anything we could do in our lifetime."

Miss Mildred said her only income is 25 cents a month from postal savings. She said Miss Mary cashed her last government bond last month, receiving about $460 which is in a Meigs bank. This, she said, will pay rent of $21 a month and for their burial.

The sisters have no close relatives.

Death Keeps Skipper From New Command Of Great Lakes Ship

BAY CITY (AP)—Death has intervened between a life-long Great Lakes sailor and his new command.

Capt. Charles Gonyaw, who came back to Bay City from his home in Tonawanda, N. Y., to supervise the construction of the 644-foot freighter, the Marshall, died Tuesday in Mercy Hospital here. Death was attributed to a heart ailment.

Capt. Gonyaw had planned to skipper the Marshall on its shake-down voyage to Cleveland later this month.

The veteran skipper, who had sailed since he was 13, was one of the best known captains on the lakes.

Blimp Flying Taught

KENT, O. (AP)—Kent State University is giving a course on how to fly balloons. It's for anyone interested in becoming a blimp pilot.

The balloon which will be used in training flights is 40 feet in diameter. It will be flown at altitudes of between 3,000 and 5,000 feet.

Lady Lost 106 Pounds Models Rennel Perfectly Size 48 Dress Goes To 18

Mrs. Lily Burris, Bloomingdale, Mich., generously reports her experience with the use of Rennel Concentrate over the period of one year. Mrs. Burris is blessed with good judgment, will power and usually succeeds with any project she undertakes. She writes: "A year ago I weighed 245 lbs. Today I am down to 139, a loss of 106 lbs. It's almost unbelievable, but true, and how grateful I am to lose all that weight. I feel like a new person in every respect. Not tired, not nervous, no sick headaches and that stomach trouble is all gone. Now I can do a hard day's work on a farm, not feel a bit tired and that will always be a mystery to me. In fact I haven't felt so good in years. Why I have put off taking Rennel so long I will never know. But once I made up my mind I really went all the way. I was faithful to Rennel and to a choice of foods strong in protein. I obtained such wonderful results right from the first month. It was so encouraging to see those pounds slipping away day by day. But the most remarkable thing is not to feel nervous, run down or tired at any time while losing all that weight. I can't praise Rennel enough. Any product that will help you lose excessive weight and keep you feeling in tip top shape, that's for me. I used to wear a size 48 dress, now I wear size 18. My waist measurement is down 17 in., hips 17 in., smaller and bust measures 12 in. less. Now I am sure you can understand why I am grateful to the makers of Rennel Concentrate for putting on the market such a fine product."

Liquid Rennel goes to work quickly. If not pleased with the very first bottle return it to the manufacturer for your money back. $1.40 at your drugstore. Insist on and be sure to get Rennel.

Chicago Student Bumps Into Love

By TOM SHAWVER
CHICAGO (AP)—It was a college romance that got its start when a blind honor law student bumped into a petite, dark-eyed coed from Israel. And it was love, he said, "at first sight."

After a courtship of only two months, Burton Kolman, 21, of Chicago, and Anita Gubali, 24, of near Tel Aviv, Israel, were married Tuesday. Both are law students at Chicago's DePaul University.

Proposes in 3 Weeks
Kolman, blinded four years ago in a baseball game, told a newsman he proposed to Miss Gubali three weeks after she stumbled into him and his Seeing-Eye dog, Chief, in a university corridor.

"It was love at first sight for me," he said. "I couldn't really see her, of course, but I knew from talking to her that she was beautiful and intelligent. I took her out 21 nights in a row and on the 22nd I proposed."

"Now I feel that if I had missed her I would have missed the whole world."

Their marriage disrupted Miss Gubali's plans for a law career in Israel. The daughter of a rabbi in Israel, she came to the United States from England last year for studies which she hoped would lead to a juvenile court judgeship in her homeland.

"But now I don't know when I shall return," she smiled. "When you are in love, you can't control yourself."

Law Partnership Planned
The courtship, the proposal and the marriage followed each other so quickly that Miss Gubali's parents were unable to obtain visas in time to attend the wedding. But they will see moving pictures of the entire ceremony showing Kolman, blond-haired and 6 feet 4 inches tall, walking unassisted down the aisle to meet his five-foot bride.

A top student at DePaul ever since he began his studies there, Kolman was recently acclaimed for having posted the highest marks in the history of the School of Law.

After a wedding trip to a Wisconsin resort, the gift of a radio program sponsor, the couple will resume their studies at DePaul. Kolman graduates next January. His wife also wants to continue her studies for a law degree.

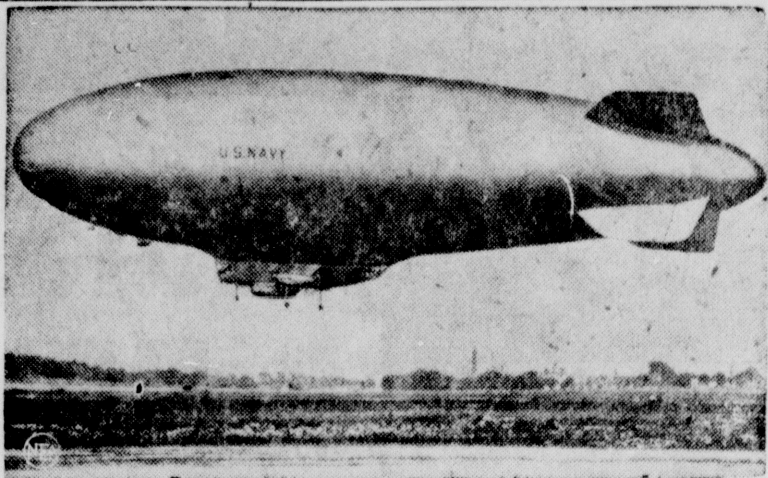

"That," said Kolman, "is because we hope to practice law together some day. It will be Kolman and Kolman, attorneys at law."

Dope Ring Nabbed

FLINT (AP)—Federal narcotics agents and Flint police seized quantities of heroin and marijuana in raids they said were expected to end a $25,000-a-week dope racket. Nine men and four women were arrested for investigation on sale or possession of narcotics.

Killed In Korea

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department identified forty casualties of the Korean War. The new list (No. 826) included 5 killed, 25 wounded, 3 injured accidentally, and 7, formerly listed as missing, now identified as captured.

BIG BLIMPS TO HUNT SUBS—The third of a new series of the world's largest blimps takes off from Akron, Ohio, on its six-hour maiden voyage. More than 300 feet long, the huge non-rigid air ship will join Navy's anti-submarine team after further tests.

Miss Fitzsimmons Is Honored By Jefferson School

Parents and teachers of the Jefferson School held a farewell party Tuesday evening at the school honoring Miss Margaret Fitzsimmons, Jefferson first grade teacher, who is retiring.

Miss Fitzsimmons spent her entire career at the Jefferson building.

The evening was spent in playing games and singing favorite songs. The musical numbers were given by Miss Norma Latola, Howard Dufour, Herbert Laddin and J. A. Mallmann. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Leonard Vader, Mrs. Llewellyn Anderson, Mrs. Paul Paulson, Mrs. Joseph Eis, Mrs. Paul Ault, Mrs. Eugene Christman and Mrs. Harold Olsen.

Miss Fitzsimmons was presented with a clever carnation corsage shaped to resemble a bright red apple. Enclosed in the corsage was a check, a gift of appreciation from children of the Jefferson and their parents, many of whom were her former pupils.

Charter Given New Lions Club

The Germfask-Seney Lions Club, newest in the Upper Peninsula, was chartered Tuesday evening with 28 members from the communities of Seney and Germfask in the northeastern part of Schoolcraft County.

Presentation of the club's charter was made by Walter G. Wilson, of St. Ignace, Upper Peninsula district governor.

Highlighting the charter banquet, attended by an estimated 120 Lions and their wives, was an address by Ralph Sheehan, of Marquette, past district governor and international director.

Sheehan emphasized the importance of such a club in a community, declaring "that you have here a vehicle to bring your talents and abilities into a common chain of progress."

Elmer Peterson Head Lifeguard

Elmer Peterson will be head lifeguard at the Gladstone bathing beach this summer, it is announced by Don Pfothner, recreation director.

Leonard Newendorp will be one of his assistants and another is yet to be named.

Both Peterson and Newendorp are members of the high school faculty.

Official opening of the bathing beach will not be made for another week or 10 days. In the meantime the beach is being raked and polished to remove the winter's accumulation of foreign matter.

Announcement will be made when supervised bathing is to begin.

Briefly Told

Confirmation Class—The confirmation class of the Mission Covenant Church meets at 4 Friday afternoon for instruction.

Maccabee Picnic—The picnic scheduled by the Lady Maccabees for Tuesday, June 9 has been postponed until Tuesday, June 16.

Band Practice—The regular band practice will be held at 7:30 Friday evening at the Bethel Evangelical Free Church.

BET Auxiliary—The Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen had a regular meeting Monday night in the Eagles hall. A social followed. High in bridge went to Mrs. Shirley Buckmaster while Mrs. Ed Olson was the winner in smear. A special award went to Mrs. John Kegel. The committee in charge was formed by Mrs. Earl Louis, Mrs. Ed Olson and Mrs. William Mineau.

EXPLOSIVE POPCORN

Cost Of Financing Business Increases

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The cost of financing business operations continues to edge up. Home mortgage interest rates are under similar pressure and so are the financing costs of buying on the cuff.

Factors —The finance companies who finance the flow of goods to consumers from such industries as textiles and furniture — are preparing their clients for the sad news that the present 6 per cent interest charge should be going up soon.

Market Tight
The squeeze from rising interest rates is shown by a parade of companies who have cancelled or postponed offerings of securities because of the higher interest demanded, or have dropped offerings altogether to get their needed money through loans from the banks. One and all, they blame "the money market condition."

Commercial paper dealers this week have hiked their interest charge for the fourth time in three months. Finance companies — the small-loan companies — have raised for the third time the amount of interest they pay investors who lend them the money to lend you to buy a car or whatever.

U. S. government bond prices fell to a record low Tuesday and the Federal Reserve Board stepped in to bolster the market.

There is no such help for corporate bonds, however. The investor who bought one Midwestern utility bond when it was offered in 1946 at 102 1/4 would find it quoted on the exchange Tuesday at 79. Lower bond prices mean higher yields—just another aspect of higher interest rates.

Some Get Hurt
The rise in interest rates and tightness of the money market are due to several things. Chief is the policy of the Federal Reserve Board in the last two years to let interest rates rise by dropping support of government bond prices.

Rising interest rates are designed to halt inflation and harden the buying value of the dollar.

Dinner Meeting Of C-C Planned

A dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce is to be held next Tuesday evening at 6:30 in the Legion hall.

Tickets for the dinner may be obtained from Frank Jandro, C-C president. Requests for tickets may be made by phone.

Ladies are invited to the meeting and in order to increase the number of women attending a price concession is made in cases where tickets are bought by pair.

There will be no formal program and the meeting will be adjourned early so members may attend a hospital meeting to be held the same night at the City Hall.

Italian Film Pay Small By Comparison

ROME (AP)—Salaries of Italian movie stars are modest by Hollywood standards, but they compare pretty well after taxes. Italy's two greatest draws—Anna Magnani and Gina Lollobrigida — receive $64,000 a picture. That's one third what a top U. S. star could draw.

Salary figures, a closely guarded secret in Hollywood, were released by the Italian Films Export board—much to the displeasure of the Italian stars and their agents.

Italian stars pay few taxes. A good guess is an Italian star pays about 15 per cent to the government. A top American star would be giving Uncle Sam five times that much.

Gardner Joins Stock Car Field For Saturday Night

Another local driver was added to the field as the Escanaba Racing Association completed plans for its first night stock car races Saturday at the State Fair track.

The time trials Saturday night will begin at 7:30 with the first of the heat races getting the starting flag from Phil Brazeau at 8:30. Association officials changed the race dates from Sunday afternoon to Saturday night in order to accommodate fans.

The new driver making his first appearance of the 1953 season is "Wild Bill" Gardner of Escanaba. Gardner is an experienced driver who has raced in past seasons at Norway and other Upper Peninsula stock car tracks.

With last weekend's racing program rained out, point totals of drivers were brought up to date today by Mark Olson, secretary of the Association.

Drivers are competing for points at each race, aiming for a spot in the special feature race to be presented during the Fair program. Drivers receive points on the basis of attendance, placing in time trials and for the first four places in the heats, semi and final. Only leading drivers will be eligible to compete in the special race.

Pirates Trade Homer King Kiner To Cubs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates traded home run king Ralph Kiner, catcher Joe Garagiola, pitcher Howie Pollett and outfielder-infielder George Metkovich to the Chicago Cubs today for six players and an undisclosed amount of cash.

The Pirates got pitcher Bob Schultz, catcher Toby Atwell and outfielders Gene Hermanski, Preston Ward and Bob Addis. Also the Pirates got the option to purchase infielder George Freese from Springfield in the International League for fall delivery.

The 10-player deal, biggest in the National League this year, was announced jointly by Wild Mathews, director of player personnel of the Cubs, and Branch Rickey, general manager of the Pirates.

The management of both teams advised the players to change uniforms immediately for the afternoon contest between the Cubs and Pirates.

200 Senior Golfers Tee Off Again Today

RYE, N. Y. (AP)—Another group of nearly 200 teed off today in quest of the United States Seniors golf championship.

They will be shooting at the 147 total for 36 holes made by Judd Brumley of Greenville, Tenn., and Paul Dunkel of Ridgewood, N. J. In the second section of the field are Ellis Knowles, five-time winner of the event, and Francis Oumet, National Open and Amateur champion of another generation.

Tom Robbins of Larchmont, N. Y., who won the championship last year with a 147, is out of the running with a 153.

Dodgers Have Little Respect For Braves

By JOE REICHLER

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers had just absorbed their second straight licking at the hands of the Milwaukee Braves. They had surrendered first place to Charlie Grimm's amazing upstarts. But strangely enough, the Braves had little respect for their conquerors.

"If they are the club we have to beat for the pennant," snorted Jackie Robinson. "I am not worried the least bit. Don't misunderstand me. If we don't win it, I like nothing better than to see Milwaukee do it. It would be a boom for baseball. But they won't do it. They just haven't got enough."

General Opinion
That seemed to be the general attitude of the defending champions as they discussed the rise of the surprising Braves after yesterday's 14-9 loss to Milwaukee. "They haven't convinced me," scoffed Charlie Dessen, the Dodgers' manager. "Sure, they got some power, but it's an old club. Let's wait until the hot weather comes around. Then we will see how good they really are."

"That kid on third (Eddie Mathews) is a pretty good hitter, but he can be pitched to." (Mathews hit a home run and single and drove in three runs yesterday.)

"They are not bad down the middle," Dessen continued. "That shortstop (Johnny Logan) and second baseman (Jack Dittmer) are improved over last year. That center fielder ( rookie Billy Burton) gives the club some speed. But we know how to pitch to him." (Burton had a single, double and triple and scored four runs yesterday.)

Dessen Raps Pitching
"Their pitching isn't so hot. We've played them six games and we've knocked out their starting pitcher each time. They used five today didn't they? That guy Bickford, who started against us today is not much. Three years ago I would have given anything to get him. Now, I wouldn't take him as a gift."

"None of them was any good." Robinson, who hadn't heard Dessen's comments, spoke glowingly of the Braves' mound crop. "Their chief strength in their pitching," Robinson said. "They got veteran starters and the addition of kids like Antonelli, Buhl and Liddle gives them pitching depth."

"But they have too many other fellows and their defense is not too strong. I know they beat us twice in a row but I don't think they look good. We just looked worse."

If the rest of the American League doesn't run for cover now it won't be the fault of the New York Yankees.

The other seven clubs have been warned—in the boldest possible terms—that the Yankees are dead serious about winning their fifth straight pennant and woe unto anyone who brash enough to oppose them.

This probably isn't the best team ever to wear the famous Yankee livery but it towers over its current opposition to such an extent that even the most ardent Yankee haters—and there are plenty of them around the circuit—would be hard put at the moment to pick another club with a real solid chance of staying on even terms with the New Yorkers.

The doubters can examine the remains of the Chicago White Sox.

Indians Folded

The Sox and Cleveland were the preseason choices to stop the Yankees, if the Yankees could be stopped. The Indians folded at the mere sight of the Bronx Bombers but the White Sox, after losing their first encounter, bounced back to win four in a row from the New Yorkers—a serious mistake.

Vows were vowed, sights were set and when the champs roared into the Windy City Tuesday for a three-game series they were ready to make immediate amends. They did.

Tuesday night they stopped the Sox, 4-3. Yesterday they trampled all over them, 18-2, in the biggest rout of the season in either league. Four Chicago pitchers were mauled for 19 hits and the New Yorkers benefited from nine bases on balls, a bit batter and three White Sox errors.

Riding a six-game winning streak and holding a fat 5 1/2-game edge over the runner-up Indians, the Yankees wind up their business in Chicago today and move on to St. Louis for four games, Detroit for three and Cleveland for four. Their combined record against the three clubs so far this season is 8-1.

The Indians slipped another full notch back last night when Boston came up with three runs in the top of the ninth for a 4-3 decision. Cleveland has played one game less than New York and has lost five more.

The Philadelphia Athletics whipped the hapless Detroit Tigers, 10-7, dropping the Tigers 20 games behind New York. Washington beat St. Louis, 3-2, in 10 innings in the other American League game.

Milwaukee made it two straight over Brooklyn on the Dodgers' home grounds, 14-9, after trailing 7-2 at the end of three innings. In winning the Braves stretched their National League lead to a game and a half.

Phillies, Cards Split
The Philadelphia Phillies split a twilight-night double-header with the St. Louis Cardinals, winning the second game, 6-5, and losing the opener, 5-3. The New York Giants trounced Cincinnati, 11-3, and Pittsburgh moved into sixth place with a 1-0 decision over Chicago.

The Red Sox victory over Cleveland broke their four-game losing streak. Trailing by two at the start of the ninth Boston put to-

Eddie Ernst, pro at the Escanaba Golf Club, discovered too late for yesterday's paper that Chet Morton had the low net score in Tuesday night's twilight league play. Chet fired a 42 with a 10 handicap for a sharp 32. Fine weather Tuesday helped draw 30 pairs of twilights to the Escanaba course, largest attendance of this summer.

In the four years the New York Giants have held their baseball tryout camp at Kingsford, five Upper Peninsula players have been signed to minor league contracts. Dick Lough and Rusty Hiltunen, Escanaba baseball stars, were signed to contracts by the Giants but both were called into the army after successful starts in the Giant farm system. Also inked as the result of the tryout camps at Kingsford were Bob Schultz of Kingsford, Walter Moraska of Norway and Dick Richardson of Niagara.

Gold Medal basketball fans may remember Buckey Lindsley, star of the Green Bay quint who was the leading scorer in the Hermansville tournament last winter. He's a former West DePere High School athlete and it's reported that Minnesota has the inside track for his case talents. A number of school are reported interested in the flashy cage ace.

Dave Duffy, outdoor writer with the Milwaukee Sentinel, is testing the lake and stream fishing in this area. Duffy, who recently joined Lew Morrison's staff on the Sentinel, has already tried his hand with the walleyes and plans to give the trout streams a whirl next.

Sprint Star Is Getting Revenge

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—J. W. Mashburn, the strapping blond comet from Oklahoma, made the trip to Oslo, Norway, last year only to find himself left out of the Olympic quarter-mile team at the last moment.

At that time, he vowed, the Olympic coach, Brutus Hamilton, would be sorry for the decision every time he ran. He turned in a 46.5-second performance in Germany shortly afterward. It was the fastest quarter ever run by any U. S. college freshman, and the 20-year-old sprinter hasn't lost since.

Mashburn hopes to keep that perfect record intact against two of the world's best in a special race Friday night at Compton, Calif. He takes on Jamaicans Herb McKenley, the world 440-yard record holder at 46 seconds flat, and George Rhoden, the 400-meter king at 45.8.

Last month in San Francisco he showed his heels to this illustrious pair and the rest of the field with a 46.8 clocking.

Friend Hard Worker For Detroit Tigers

By JOE FALLS
DETROIT (AP)—You're Owen Friend and you make your living playing second base for the Detroit Tigers.

These are hard days. The team is losing game after game and some of the players are disgruntled.

But not you. You stay in there, fighting and plugging away, because you like your manager, Fred Hutchinson. You like him too much not to go all out.

Needs More Time
You tell yourself you can hit .300 in the league. . . Even though your batting average is only .216.

All you need is time. . . time to study the pitchers. . . time to bear down. . . time to learn to relax. You know the Tiger management is banking heavily on you. You know they're trying to rebuild with youth and you know they like your age of 26.

You tell yourself that the Tigers must think highly of you, or why would they trade guys like Virgil Trucks and Johnny Groth to get you and Bob Nieman from the St. Louis Browns.

You've been in a hitting slump, though. But you finally broke out of it Tuesday night by slamming a home run. And Wednesday you hit another home run and two singles, besides.

Tigers Outfit A's
You hope things are starting to break your way. This is your big chance to make big money — and you don't want to flub it.

Friend's three hits boosted the Tiger total for Wednesday's game to 14. The A's made only 12 — but they still pay off on runs, and Philadelphia made 10 of those to seven for the Tigers.

The A's scored five runs in the next inning to sew it up. Gus Zernial topped this outburst with a three-run homer. He hit another, with none on, in the ninth. In the Tigers' half of the ninth, outfielder Bob Nieman hit his fifth home run to take the club lead. Dave Madison, third of four Tiger hurriers, was the loser. He was the victim of the A's seventh inning rally.

Tiger Tales

DETROIT (AP)—Overheard in Briggs Stadium.

Most of the Tiger players took a long time undressing after Wednesday's 10-7 loss to the Philadelphia A's. . . It left them winless in 10 straight games and the players sat around, as if trying to remember when was their last victory. . . It was May 22. Art Houtteman beat the White Sox with a two-bitter.

Steve Souchock, Tiger left fielder, pulled up lame after chasing a triple in the seventh inning, suffering a recurrence of a leg injury. . . "Makes me a little mad," said Souch. "I never had a pulled muscle before."

Pat Mullin was expounding on the art of pinch hitting. He had delivered two straight pinch hits but was taking a realistic view of the duty. "Believe me, it's not easy to pinch hit," he said. "You go into the game cold and you're reflexes aren't as sharp as if you were playing the full game. . . But pinch hitting is my job, and I'm always determined to do my best at it."

Saints Keep Lead In Association

By The Associated Press

The St. Paul Saints, stretching their winning streak to seven games, held first place in the American Association race Thursday by a one game margin over Kansas City.

The Saints trimmed Indianapolis 9-5 Wednesday night, rapping four Indian pitchers for 14 hits, including four homers.

Meanwhile, Kansas City was knocked from the roost by dropping a doubleheader to Charleston, 4-2 and 8-5.

Toledo made it three in a row over the tottering Minneapolis Millers with a 12-2 triumph. Columbus and Louisville split a twin bill. The Colonels took the opener 3-1. The Red Birds slammed 11 hits for a 7-5 decision in the afterpiece.

Tab Warren Hacker Hard Luck Pitcher

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Warren Hacker of the Chicago Cubs seems certain to be labeled "the hard luck pitcher of 1953."

Hacker, who dropped a 1-0 decision to the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday night has a 1-9 record. The Cubs were shut out in five of those games.

Hacker's been defeated by scores of 1-0 twice, 2-0 twice, 3-0, 4-3 and 5-4.

Castellani Seeks Revenge Ring Win

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rocky Castellani will fight Pierre Langlois in a middleweight main event at Cleveland Arena June 17, it was announced today.

Castellani has lost only twice since 1948, but one of the losses was to Langlois in February.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Top Track Stars Will Compete In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Top Midwest talent, sprinkled with performers from the South and East, will compete here Saturday in the 28th Central Collegiate Conference Track and field meet.

The field's lustre will be dimmed slightly by the absence of defending champion Illinois, prohibited from entering by a school rule banning the travel of athletic teams during examination periods. This has thrown the scramble for the team title into a probable four-way battle between Iowa, Notre Dame, Michigan State and Marquette.

Sprint Star

Sprinter Othane Baker of Kansas State carries the top individual billing into the meet. The Big Seven Conference dashman has the best times in the United States this season—9.5 seconds in the 100, 20.4 seconds in the 220 and 47.1

seconds in the 440. All are better than the current 3-C records. Four hurdlers threaten the low stick mark of 23.7 seconds. James Philbee of Bradley, Al Thomas of Marquette, Bill Smith of Wayne and Don Smith of Kansas all have bettered the time.

Oldest Record
The oldest record on the books—the high jump of 6 feet 7 1/2 inches—by Butler's Bert Nelson in 1932—also may be in danger. J. Lewis (Papa) Hall of Florida and Arnold Betton of Drake, ranked third and fourth among the nation's collegiate jumpers, are the best bets.

Hall just missed the record a year ago when he won at 6 feet 7 1/8. Schools outside the Midwest which have entered teams include Georgia Tech, Tennessee, Loyola of New Orleans, Auburn, North Carolina College, Syracuse, Tulane, Pittsburgh and Wyoming.

Mims Beats Turner On Easy Decision

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Holly Mims was fresh and almost unmarked after his unanimous decision over Jesse Turner of St. Louis here Wednesday night.

Mims, Washington, D. C., middleweight, sent Jesse to the deck for a mandatory eight count in the sixth round.

WOLFE CAPTAIN

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Swedish-born Roland (Fritz) Nilsson, who competed in the Olympic Games for his homeland but won the Big Ten shot put and discus crowns for Michigan, is the Wolverines' new track captain. Nilsson, who was elected by his mates Wednesday, succeeds Jack Carroll.

Soo Marks 100th Locks Anniversary

By JOHN M. MATHESON
Written for The Associated Press
SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—The 100th anniversary of one of the most significant events in Michigan history will be observed today—the start of construction of the first lock and canal at Sault Ste. Marie.

On June 4, 1853, a young engineer, Charles T. Harvey, turned the first shovel of earth to start construction of the locks. The four American locks and one Canadian in their peak year of 1942 handled 120,199,479 tons of freight, a mark nearly equalled in 1952.

Whole U. S. Benefits
“The canal made the ore trade and the ore trade made the canal.” Pete White, a pioneer in Michigan's mining industry, said nearly 50 years ago.

White, who first passed the Sault in 1849 on his way to the “Iron Mountains” of the Upper Peninsula, said: “The opening of the Sault canal has been of the largest benefit to the whole United States of any single happening in its commercial or industrial history.”

“In widely reaching effect it is comparable with the declaration of independence, because every state in the union has benefitted by it.”

Those words were spoken when U. S. steel production the year before, 1904, totaled 14,422,101 tons. Capacity has now passed the 100,000,000 ton mark.

Once Ridiculed
What is now taken for granted as “Michigan's miracle mile” or “Michigan's million dollar mile” was once the object of ridicule.

Early state leaders fought 16 years before construction started. In Congress, Henry Clay described it as “a work beyond the remotest settlement in the United States, if not the moon.”

On Jan. 2, 1837, Gov. Stevens T. Mason, in a message to the Legislature, mentioned the need of Communications for shipping around falls of the St. Mary's river at Sault Ste. Marie.

He suggested that Congress be asked for an appropriation for construction of the canal. If the government refused, he said the Legislature should make the project a state improvement.

In March of that year, the Legislature passed an act authorizing canal construction, with provision for an engineering survey.

No Funds For Survey
The survey engineer, John Almy reported to the Legislature on Dec. 16, 1837 that the lock be constructed at an estimated cost of $112,544.80.

The Legislature passed a resolution asking Congress for a donation of land to aid in construction, and the fight was on in Washington.

After several years, Congress granted a right of way and 750,000 acres for construction in an act signed by President Millard Fillmore on Aug. 26, 1852.

After Congress finally passed the land grant act, the governor asked the secretary of war for an engineer to make a survey, plans and estimates for the project. His request was denied because no funds had been appropriated.

But Capt. Augustus Canfield volunteered to do the work without pay, and he completed his survey in October, 1853, estimated the cost at $557,739.

The contract for the construction of the canal was entered into on April 5, 1853.

Hit By Cholera
After the groundbreaking, nearly two years of difficult construction followed, with 1,600 men at one time engaged in the work.

A cholera epidemic struck in 1854 and the working force had to be constantly renewed.

On May 24, 1855, certificates of completion of the canal and locks were filed, and on June 18, 1855, Capt. Jack Wilson locked through the steamer Illinois to start the parade of the long ships passing.

The total cost of the project was $999,802.46, nearly double Capt. Canfield's estimate. One of the first ship canals of its type constructed in the U. S., it was later described by Gen. Orlando M. Poe of the Army Engineers as “a remarkable work for its time and purpose.”

To go back to the words of Peter

Becomes Bride

SENEY—Miss Colleen Hollingshead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hollingshead, became the bride of Edward Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. George McMillan, Saturday. The ceremony was held at the Presbyterian parsonage in Newberry by Rev. Carson. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. George Hollingshead, brother and sister of the bride and groom.

A reception was held in the evening at the Seney town hall for 100 relatives and friends from Marquette, Newberry, Germfask, McMillan and Seney. The young

White, he said the following in his 1905 address:

“... When the lumberman, the miner, the heavy freighter came, the canal became a necessity.” It has been America's lifeline ever since.
